Blairmore Defeats Michel In Final Of Mutz Cup

Vejpreva Scores Winning Goal in Overtime to Give His Team a 2-1 Victory.

Blairmore kept intact their impressive record of the season when they defeated Michel at the local ground on Sunday 2-1 in overtime, to add the Mutz cup to the Crahan cup, which they won from Coleman a month ago. By their win Blairmore gained the lion's share of the trophies, winning two out of the three cups competed for.

A strong wind spoiled the game as it swept down the field, handicapping the team playing against it. Blairmore, playing with the wind in the first half, kept the ball in Michel territory during the first five minutes, and on several occasions were only a few yards from Michel goal, only to be unable to score. Kemp was responsible for the first goal, when he lobbed the ball into the Michel goal, Gardiner rushing the goalie who lost possession, Gardiner kicking it through. Michel was not long in equalizing when Walker shot a low hard drive that passed out of Stewart's reach.

Playing with the wind in the second half Michel were much the dangerous team, hemming Blairmore inside their own half. Stewart in the Blairmore net saved his team on many occasions with his brilliant saves. Parker handled the ball in the penalty area in trying to clear. Jenkins took the spot kick, Stewart making the best play of the day when he stopped the spot kick and again saved when Jenkins shot the rebound. Both teams tried hard for the winning goal but the teams were dead locked at 1-1 at the end of regulation time.

Overtime had only gone four minutes when Tony Vejpreva scored with a hard drive to give his team a great victory. Michel tried desperately to get on even terms, but the Blairmore defence kept them at bay, the final whistle giving them a 2-1 vic-

QUITS ADVERTISING, FAILS

(Drumheller Mail)
E. L. Murdoch, proprietor of a former leading ladies' ready-to-wear store at Champaign, Ill., closed the doors of the store to avoid being thrown into bankruptcy. In a statement to the Champaign News-Gazette, he set forth the principal reasons for the store's failure to maintain prestige and prosperity it had enjoyed in times past. He said:

"Perhaps the greatest contributing cause is the fact that four years ago our firm, because we thought the rate was too high, discontinued all advertising in the News-Gazette. We tried other forms of advertising to supplant the News-Gazette, but found none effective. Our business continued on the down grade. Seemingly our friends had forgotten us. The fault was ours."

It should prove the best match seen here since Frank began promoting these programs. Adding to the general interest is Bert Garrett, a McGillivray miner and vice president of the returned soldiers organization in Coleman, who is matched against Tommy McCloy. All these men have been under strict training and should give the fans plenty of action. The bouts take place in the Community hall.

Jones-Michalsky Wedding Mrs. John Hopkins Died Wednesday

Two of Coleman's young people were married on Thursday at the Catholic Rectory when Miss Anna Michalsky, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jon Michalsky of Coleman, became the bride of Harold Jones, son of Mr. Harold Jones of Coleman. The bride was attended by Miss Irene Leskoste of Blairmore while Joe Michalsky, brother of the bride supported the groom.

Miss Isabel McDonald played the bridal march as the couple entered the Rectory, Father Dunbar officiating at the ceremony. During the signing of the register Miss Barbara Piotrowski rendered a solo.

Supper was served at the home of the bride's parents, where covers were laid for seventy five guests. Later in the evening a dance was held in the Polish hall where many friends of the couple met in gay festivity.

At 8 a.m. in Coleman Hospital—Came Here in 1909—Funeral on Sunday

Recently Mrs. Hopkins was admitted to hospital for an operation, which it was thought might benefit her health, but after a comparatively short illness she passed on last Wednesday. The end was not altogether unexpected, as her daughter, Mrs. M. Phillips, of Chemsinus, V.I., was summoned here last week.

By her death there is removed one of the early links of Coleman's history. She came here in 1909 with her husband from Nantyglo, Wales, 19 years after their marriage in 1890 at Llanelli. Her maiden name was Elizabeth Wheeler.

Members of the family left to mourn her death, besides her husband, are John T. Hopkins and William G. Hopkins, of Coleman; Mrs. M. Phillips, of Chemsinus, and Mrs. Walter Nelson, of Coleman.

Deceased was a faithful helpmate and was closely interested in her home life. She was frequently seen down town, even up till comparatively recent days, and maintained a fairly active life.

The funeral service will be held on Sunday, at St. Alban's church at 2.30 p.m.

Looking Forward

Never in the history of the country have the actions and policies of an incoming government been subjected to such scrutiny as will be the decisions and doings of the new Mackenzie King, Liberal regime, which was returned to power with such overwhelming support from all parts of the country on October 14.

The reason for this assertion is not far to seek. Canada is apparently just emerging from a prolonged period of agricultural and world-wide economic depression. On this period pocket books have been hard hit. Much misery has prevailed as the standard of living for a very large percentage of the population steadily declined. The cost of operation of all governments, federal, provincial and municipal have necessarily mounted to meet the demands for assistance from all classes of citizens, bringing in its train increased taxation at a time when people could ill afford it. Some of the expenditure has been met as it was incurred. Much of it has been pushed ahead for future liquidation.

As a result, all governmental units are faced with the difficult problem of operating economically so as not to bear down harder than necessary on individual resources and at the same time maintain a growing list of public services which the people have become accustomed to expect, and these conditions the governments are expected to cope with and in an accumulation of indebtedness is being paid off. It looks like a herculean task.

The fact that such a large proportion of the population has felt in varying degrees the intensity of the six depression years has in itself stimulated a much greater interest in the affairs of the country, the province and the municipality than the people evinced in years of comparative plenty. In good times the citizens are prone to take but a cursory interest in their own public affairs and usually only just around election time, but when times are hard and unfortunate conditions strike right into the home, people bestir themselves and become vociferous. And that is exactly what happened on October 14 and for many months prior to that date.

And now that the people have spoken their mind quite definitely it is safe to assume that, for a time at least, they will follow up their decision, by continuing to take a keen and watchful interest in what their representatives at Ottawa do. The interest in public affairs is not likely to be immediately extinguished now that the die is cast, and one of the reasons for this is the fact that even if the so-called prosperity corner has been turned, there is still a long climb ahead before the peak is reached.

For some time to come the upward struggle will be difficult. The road will be rocky in places and thorned bushes line the path. The inevitable temporary setbacks will be experienced and doubtless there will be some who will become impatient.

Whatever measures the new federal government may have in mind to smooth the highway and make the journey easier must await the necessary preliminary discussions and decisions and subsequent announcements and they must be put into operation before a final verdict as to their effectiveness can be pronounced.

It must be borne in mind that it took several years after the big avalanche of the fall of 1929 before the floor of the depression valley was reached. It is only reasonable to suppose that it will take as long, perhaps longer, to reach the summit as it required to touch bottom. Past experience has taught this lesson for those whose memories are long enough.

Canada, however, has come through this trying period in better condition than many other less fortunate nations. She has preserved her democratic institutions. The ferocity and rage of her people have proved a bulwark during the difficult period. Her financial integrity and credit have been preserved unimpaired. Her people have not starved nor frozen. Materially, she has not sustained such severe shocks as have been the lot of citizens of many of the other countries of the world.

With these assets to sustain the people in their progress towards recovery, plus such assistance as a stable government is able to give within its limitations, Canadians have every reason to look forward with hope towards the future.

And stable government, too, will be able to play an important role in the forward move to better things and improved conditions. It is true there are many who are disappointed that the political party of their choice was not successful at the polls on October 14, but even they will join the majority in expressing approval that the winning party was returned to office in sufficient strength to ensure a government that will be unhampered by the necessity of temporizing at a time when stability and a straightforward course is essential if a maximum of progress is to be enjoyed.

Even so, all eyes will be turned on Ottawa during the next few months.

Fifty-Foot Yacht Makes Safe Voyage Across The Pacific

Three months out from Yokohama, with auxiliary engines disabled three days after departure, the 50-foot schooner-rigged yacht Romance arrived at Victoria after weathering almost continuous head gales across the Pacific.

The yacht was skippered by Captain Ernest Green, former master of the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Asia, and carried a crew of two, the skipper's 18-year-old son Philip, an engineer, and John Hunter, former Victorian, able seaman.

"I've spent 40 years at sea, part of that time on old square-riggers, but these waves seemed like huge mountains with the snow coming off," said Captain Green, telling of the worst blow on Sept. 21.

"The Romance rode them beam on with bare poles taking them in beautiful fashion and shipping no water. But when I saw one coming coming that must have been 50 feet high, I truly thought we were done for and uttered a prayer. But we made it. Then we put on two oil bags, one at the fore rigging and another at the main. And the effect was instantaneous; the seas calmed and we breathed easier.

"The Romance is as safe as an Empress, though it may not be as comfortable. The French government thinks so well of it that French officials in Indo-China asked the builders for specifications. With more power this type of craft would be ideal for service in those waters."

Captain Green chose the old-time sailing ship track over 40 north latitude and sighted only one craft, a Japanese vessel, on the trip from the Yokohama breakwater.

The voyage was the culmination of a lifetime ambition of a seadog who retired last year and who made the crossing many times as master of the 17,000-ton Empress of Asia until he reached the retirement age.

Diamond Mines In Canada

American Geologist Believes There Is Hidden Wealth In This Country

A geologist and an industrial diamond expert voiced the belief that beneath the soil of Canada lie diamond fields far richer than those of South Africa.

Professor A. S. Purcator, of Western Reserve University, and D. W. Carter, head of a diamond tool company, agreed that authentic diamond discoveries in the United States support the Canadian theory.

They said the glaciers of thousands of years ago carried to this country many precious stones together with millions of tons of Canadian rocks and minerals.

Carter asserted he subscribes to a theory that northern Canada was a jungle before nature began forming gems in South Africa. "Therefore," he added, "Canada would contain far greater deposits of stones than the comparatively new dark continent."

Population Of World

Estimated It Will Be Six Billion By The Year 2160

It has been estimated that if the present rate of increase continues the world will have no fewer than 6,000,000,000 people to feed, clothe and house by the year 2100—less than 170 years in the future. The number mentioned is regarded as about as many as the old earth can comfortably cater for unless its soil is taught to yield more bountiful crops than it does at present. To-day the world population is only about 1,900,000,000.

Lastex Fabrics Useful

Has Lately Been Used Extensively For Women's Garments

Lastex fabrics have played an increasingly important role during the past few years and promise to be popular materials for fall and winter wear.

Being impervious to water, Lastex made invaluable bathing suits for the summer, and likewise will go into the smart ensembles for shooting, golf, skiing and skating. Special tweeds woven with Lastex have been used for these sport suits with specially reinforced bands at the wrists and ankles of ski suits to keep out the snow. There are leather riding gauntlets which fit closely at the wrist with jersey Lastex bands.

Lastex has been used extensively for women's underwear in tulle and lace as well as jersey. These garments have all the advantages of the strongest elastics without any of the disadvantages of old-fashioned corsets and girdles. Lightweight materials control the curves and can be laundered easily without losing any of their qualities. For large women, girdles and corsets are made of Lastex combined with a satin which has been reinforced by Lastex to keep the figure firm.

This same wonderful material is used in attractive weaves by upholsterers who have discovered that it is particularly practical for springy seats which were formerly covered by loosely cut plain fabrics to give play to the springs.

New Engineering Marvel

Installed The Longest Escalators In The World

After five years burrowing and boring and propping, excavating, and other engineering feats, the London Transport Board, as successors to the tube authorities, were able to open recently the new Leicester-Square Station. In many ways the achievement is an engineering marvel. Many difficulties had to be encountered which were unexpected. The work was carried on in a confined area under the busy traffic junction of Cranbourne-street and Charing Cross-road. Through one moderate-sized hole in the roadway thousands of tons of materials had to pass. The contractors used a million bricks, 7,000 tons of cement, and 1,350 tons of steel, and they excavated 34,000 cubic yards of clay. A circular churning-hall with shops and showcases like those at Piccadilly, all artistically treated and with soft diffused lights, is a handsome feature of the building. There are five stairway entrances from the street, and three of the escalators are 161 feet long—the longest in the world—and capable of a speed of 180 feet per minute.

Man Flies Under Own Power

Drifts Two Miles Into Wind Before Opening His Chute

A parachute jumper from New Jersey is the 12-foot man to fly under his own power. With curious bat-like wings attached to his arms, he stepped out of an aeroplane at 8,000 feet, rode into the wind like a bird, and drifted two miles before he opened his parachute at 3,000 feet. The daring parachutist reported that he had been able to execute a "barrel roll" and one or two other flying tricks at the beginning of his drop. He has a strip of canvas, about three feet square, sewn between the legs of his jumpers. This, he says, enables him to change direction and execute stunts by kicking his legs and holding them at varying angles. After his parachute opened he landed unhurt in a tree. The theory that a man will be able to fly without the aid of a parachute is just a lot of hooey," he said. He added that as far as he knew his experiment had no practical value. It was just a good stunt. Previously, in February of this year, Mr. Clem Sohn, a 22-year-old parachute soldier, was reported to have flown under his own power at Dayton, Ohio, after dropping from an aeroplane at a height of 12,000 feet.

The World Rulers

Author Thinks 200 Men Are Masters Of Human Conscience

A thesis that five men "master the consciences of the mass of humanity" and that the world is "managed or mismanaged" by about 200 out of a population of more than 2,000,000,000, is presented by "The Unofficial Observer" in a book published in New York.

In a volume entitled "Our Lords and Masters," the anonymous author asserts that "of these 10 score potentates, barely 25 men rank as world rulers in their own right."

In the sphere of social behavior the five he lists as masters of human conscience are: King George V, Pope Pius XI, Leon Trotsky, the Emperor of Japan and Mahatma Gandhi.

Among the more mundane political potentates he lists as the eight outstanding world rulers: Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin, and Sir Samuel Hoare, of Great Britain; Andre Tardieu of France; Joseph Stalin of the Soviet Union; Benito Mussolini of Italy; Adolf Hitler of Germany; President Roosevelt of the United States; and Mustafa Kemal Ataturk of Turkey.

France Accepts League's Economic Sanctions Against Italy

Geneva.—France notified the League of Nations Sunday she has accepted economic sanctions against Italy.

Thus she joined Great Britain in a drive to isolate Benito Mussolini because he has made war on Ethiopia.

Both France and Britain now have announced their readiness to enforce the most powerful sanction—an economic boycott of Italy—by agreeing to buy nothing from the Fascist state and by stopping the exportation to Italy of certain key products, especially those needed in the manufacture of armaments, munitions and implements of war.

Premier Laval telegraphed the French acceptance of economic sanctions. He informed league officials that these would be applied on the date to be fixed by the league, but asked four days' time to take the necessary steps.

The league's "general staff" of 52 nations will meet to set the date for application of economic sanctions.

The United States' reply to the league invitation for an expression on its action against Italy also reached Geneva. Hugh Wilson, the American envoy, delivered it to the league secretary.

Special significance was attached to the closing sentence of the note: "If (the United States) views with sympathetic interest the individual or concerted efforts of other nations to preserve peace or to localize and shorten the duration of war."

Canada At League

Seat Given On Governing Body Of International Labor Office

Geneva.—Canada was unanimously elected to the governing body of the international office in succession to Germany. In acknowledging the election, Dr. Walter Riddell, the Dominion's advisory officer here, said it came at a time when the interest of the Canadian people in social and industrial problems was greater than ever before.

The government body selected Dr. Riddell as chairman.

The international labor office is closely connected with the League of Nations, but has a parallel organization of its own here, also set up by the peace treaty of 1919. The governing body consists of 12 representatives of member governments. It organizes international conferences with view to agreement on enforcing higher standing of labor.

Kidnapper Sentenced

John Bannan Receives Term Of 15 Years In Penitentiary

London, Ont.—John B. Bannan, Windsor, Ont., beer-runner, was found guilty by a jury of the kidnapping of John S. Labatt, London brewer, and was immediately sentenced to 15 years in penitentiary by Mr. Justice G. F. McFarland.

Ontario provincial police discovered, it was related during the six-day trial, that Bannan was one of the plotters in the Labatt abduction that was carried out in August, 1934. The wealthy brewer was held for more than two days for $150,000 ransom in Muskoka district summer cottage and was released without payment of any part of the ransom.

Evidence of Michael McCordell, confessedly a member of the kidnap gang, linking Bannan with the crime, was the prosecution's principal weapon in sending Bannan to Kingston penitentiary.

McCordell, who has pleaded guilty and is awaiting sentence for the kidnapping, also declared that David Melner, now serving a 15-year sentence on the same charge, had nothing to do with the Labatt abduction. Melner was sentenced early this year.

Waterways Treaty

St. Lawrence Project Awaits Ratification From Washington

Ottawa.—Defeat of the Bennett administration and inauguration of a ministry headed by Liberal Leader King will make no difference in the status of the St. Lawrence waterways treaty with Washington, it was said here.

The treaty will remain pigeonholed until ratified by the American senate by a two-third vote. Then the new government would be forced to consider it and have it either passed by parliament or defeated.

Although Premier-elect King has never made public his views on the treaty, two of his provincial lieutenants, Premier Hepburn of Ontario and Premier Taschereau of Quebec, have opposed it, the former most strenuously.

Uncover Plot

Soviet Authorities See Plans To Disrupt Rail Traffic

Moscow.—Soviet authorities announced that police at Kiev had uncovered an important counter-revolutionary plot involving plans to disrupt rail traffic in certain sections of Russia.

Twenty persons were arrested at Kiev, all said to be followers of Leon Trotsky, exiled Soviet leader and proponent of world revolution. They will be accused before the Kharkov tribunal of fostering plans to sabotage the Soviet Union's already seriously handicapped communications system.

Goes To The Front

Rome.—Dr. Filippo Tommaso Marinetti, poet and author and Italy's "Father of Futurism," sailed for East Africa to join troops in East Africa as a captain. News of his sailing caused amusement in military circles, because although Marinetti is acknowledged to be a good soldier—he holds two Great War medals for valor—he is more famous as a bizarre artist.

Italy Withdraws Troops

Gesture Of Good Will Is Made Towards Britain

Rome.—Italy made a definite gesture of good will toward Great Britain by ordering the withdrawal of one division of soldiers from Libya but at the same time a spokesman asserted settlement of the Ethiopian war would be difficult "as long as the nationalist machine works at Geneva."

Discussing the removal of the troops, which have been concentrated upon the border of Egypt, a fact Britain regarded as a threat, the spokesman said:

"Our actions have been taken on our own initiative. Italy hopes the move will be interpreted as a friendly gesture."

The steamer Sadino, capable of carrying 2,000 troops, sailed from Naples for Libya under orders to be ready to take off contingents of the Metaxas division.

A government spokesman said Mussolini's gesture in Libya represents "a major contribution" to the solution of the problem of peace, not only in Europe but also in East Africa.

The matter, of course, does not dispose of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute. But in informed quarters belief was expressed that it lays a foundation for a solution, impossible so long as tension existed between Italy and Britain.

Mussolini started a drive against sanctions in his campaign to legalize Italy's Ethiopian conquests.

War forces on two fronts gave him accomplished facts with which to confront the League of Nations. Big and rich Tigre province of Ethiopia, taken by General Emilio de Bono and his troops, has been formally annexed.

Important Measures

Alberta Premier To Take Steps To Relieve Hardships In Province

Edmonton.—Forecasting important measures to relieve farm debt burdens and hardship in Alberta, Premier Aberhart warned that no one need think that all he had to do was to sit back and wait for basic dividends to come.

At an official luncheon tendered the new Social Credit government by the city of Edmonton, Premier Aberhart said: "You will shortly hear of a way that farmers can get out from under their heavy mortgage load."

The premier pleaded for sympathy and co-operation and promised that not a single step would be taken by the government without the best expert advice.

To Run For Parliament

Ramsay MacDonald Will Be Candidate For Re-election

London.—J. Ramsay MacDonald, lord president of the council, will again run for parliament in Seaham, it was announced. This ended rumors the former prime minister would soon accept a peerage, or would run in another seat. Seaham is regarded as a Labor stronghold, but Mr. MacDonald retained it by a majority of almost 6,000 in 1931, shortly after he had formed a national government and suffered expulsion from the Labor party.

Export Of War Materials

Large Proportion From United States Going To Italy

Washington.—Substantial gains in United States exports of materials useful for war, with large proportions going to Italy, were shown by department of commerce figures comparing September and August trade.

Movements of actual guns and ammunition, however, continued small and the figures showed no purchases in that category by Italy.

Cotton linters, useful for explosives, totaled 5,269,000 pounds in September against 7,031,000 pounds in August. Italy took 736,731 pounds of the September total.

Iron and steel scrap metal shipments moved up from 156,685 tons in August to 170,486 tons in September, of which Italy took 40,432 tons. Total copper ingot shipments dropped from 56,805,000 pounds to 34,661,000 pounds—Italy taking 5,682,000 pounds of the September exports.

Search For Meteor

Excavation Work Carried On In Manitoba District

Fortier, Man.—A crew of men worked to excavate what is believed to be a meteorite that thundered out of the skies during a severe electrical storm Oct. 15.

Residents of this district, 35 miles west of Winnipeg, declared a "roaring noise" was heard during the night. The next day a hole 12 inches in diameter was found within 40 feet of the home of Cornelius Glebrecht and within 70 feet of the general store of A. B. Manning.

The noise was first believed to have been lightning striking the ground. Later the belief was expressed it might have been a meteor. No indication of the meteor has yet been uncovered but excavation work is under way at the scene.

Excavation work is under direction of Prof. V. W. Jackson, of the University of Manitoba.

Wins Nobel Prize

Award In Medicine Goes To German Professor

Stockholm, Sweden.—The Nobel prize in medicine was awarded to the German professor, Hans Spemann, professor of zoology in the University of Freiburg.

The award carries with it 160,000 kroner—about $42,000.

Dr. Spemann was awarded the prize for his discoveries in connection with embryonic evolution.

Professor Spemann's achievements have been mainly in the domain of experimental biology and he has conducted notable researches.

He established, among other things, that frogs' eggs can be brought to full development by means of mechanical and chemical stimulants, tending to prove that each egg contains the essentials for a complete organism, even without fecundation.

Heavy Taxation

Hearst Claims Nearly Ninety Per Cent Of Income Goes To State

Hollywood, Calif.—William Randolph Hearst, in a letter to the Hollywood editors of Variety, declared that high California taxes have compelled him to close his places in this state "and live almost entirely in New York."

Pouncing upon the recently enacted California income tax, the publisher expressed fear a large number of people "with considerable incomes" are planning to reside elsewhere, and foresaw an opportunity for development in states with easier taxes.

"The California income tax goes to 15 per cent," the letter said. "Add to this the federal income taxes and the New York taxes, plus many other taxes, and I find that over 80 per cent of my income will go in taxes—in fact it may be nearer 80 per cent."

Cost Of War

Italy Is Paying Heavily For Operations In Ethiopia

Geneva.—Statistics of the Bank of International Settlements sent to the League of Nations indicated the cost to Italy of the Ethiopia war.

The figures showed during the first 10 days of October the bank of Italy lost 206,000,000 lira in gold. Experts estimated if this figure is taken as an average, about 453,000,000 lira, or over 10 per cent of the Italian gold reserve at the end of September, has been withdrawn in the past three weeks.

Burglars Caught

Winnipeg.—A South Winnipeg constabulary proved a jinx to burglars. At two a.m., two men who had forced a door were found in the store and arrested. The door was repaired. At four a.m., police caught two more burglars busily packing up stolen goods.

Chequers, Eng.—Prime Minister Baldwin opened the campaign for re-election of the national government with a broadcast speech in which he there were risks to peace. At the same time he asserted he always had stood for peace.

Discussing the League of Nations' efforts to halt the Italo-Ethiopian war and the fact the United States, Germany and Japan are outside the league, Mr. Baldwin said:

"There are risks to peace. You may ask what risks. I reply, risks in the kind of sanctions imposed. If sanctions of the severest kind are imposed that will lead inevitably to a blockade and a blockade brings in the question of countries outside the league."

"And that was what I had in mind when I said 'I would never sanction this country going into a blockade unless we were assured beforehand of the attitude of the United States.'"

Pointing to what he said was the need for increased national defenses, Mr. Baldwin said:

"Whatever may happen in the future with regard to a blockade, the brunt of any trouble that may result must fall in the beginning on the British navy—in conjunction with others if we are fortunate; possibly alone if we are not."

Many ships of the British navy, he asserted, are obsolete and incapable of standing up against modern vessels.

"The government is all in favor of a policy of collective security. I am convinced the country is behind that policy."

"I have warned the country there were risks in peace."

"I say deliberately that while I am prepared to pursue that policy with all my heart and soul, I cannot pursue it and I cannot be responsible for the conduct of any government of this country at the present time if I am not given the power to remedy the deficiencies which have accrued in our defence forces since the Great War."

"I have always stood for peace and always said—peace abroad and peace at home, peace not uniformly imposed by a dictator but worked out by the reasoning of a free people."

The prime minister insisted neither he nor anyone else wanted Britain to have exaggerated armaments, but said he wanted them brought up-to-date, as other countries had been.

Support of the league means the country offering it must have not only the will but the power to enforce its decisions, he declared.

Sanctions Approved

Durban, Union of South Africa.—Three resolutions designed to hinder Italy's campaign in Ethiopia were passed at a meeting of 800 persons in the city hall. The resolutions called upon the government to prohibit the export of meat to the Italian army, to cancel the Italian shipping subsidy and to put in force any further economic sanctions within their power.

Dominion-Provincial Conference To Be Called At Early Date

Ottawa.—Assembling of a Dominion-provincial conference at an early date, reduction in the size of the Dominion cabinet by merger of departments and adoption of the British system of appointing parliamentary under-secretaries to assist cabinet ministers were three announcements made by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

As soon as the new cabinet had been sworn in Mr. King issued a statement explaining his views on these matters.

Prime Minister King intimated that after the government was sworn in cabinet council immediately discussed preliminary plans with respect to calling of the Dominion-provincial conference, constitution of the national unemployment commission and matters relating to trade with Great Britain, United States and Japan.

Finance Minister Dunning will have, in addition to provincial financing, the question of heavy re-financing operations to deal with.

Many administrative changes will result from the merger of six departments which involve the disappearance of three portfolios. Transportation will be gathered into one jurisdiction with the merger of railways and marine departments, the interior department will be merged with immigration and colonization, and the office of solicitor-general disappears completely with the duties of that minister taken over by the minister of justice.

All these changes will require legislative action and numerous staff and office adjustments. Considerable reorganization will be required also to bring about proposed adoption of the English system of parliamentary secretaries to the ministers of major departments. Members of the House of Commons will be chosen in the same manner as ministers are selected, to act as assistants to the ministers of certain departments. They will be on full time with salaries, and while not attending meetings of the government will be empowered to speak for their departments in the House of Commons, thus relieving the ministers of a burden which, in some instances, has proven heavy.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

BOOSTERS are needed to make a place a centre of community activity. Business men must of necessity take a leading part in local activities. Goodwill is created and out of goodwill is business developed. Friendliness develops business, and at the same time it sows the good seed of fellowship which makes all concerned happier in their personal relationships. If people do not like a man they will not trade with him, and at times personal feelings weigh more heavily than even price attractions, though these must not be ignored. Often this important factor of sowing the good seed is overlooked and loss of business to retailers results.
As a garden must be cultivated to obtain results, so must the friendship of people be cultivated by a sincere effort to make a town a centre of progressive effort towards better status. When inclined to blame your town, remember it may be yourself to blame. "It isn't your town; it's you," is a good quotation to always remember. Be a happy booster! Be a worker for better things! It is better to give than to receive, especially in community building or in any other local activity.

A GENEROUS tribute of praise was accorded by Mr.
Cyril Hampshire, adjudicator at the musical festival, to Mr. Moffatt, music instructor in the Pass schools, for the splendid results he has achieved in a comparatively short time. A marked improvement is noted in the school classes, pleasing to parents and pupils. It is a fact that very few teachers are qualified to teach music and the engaging of an instructor to supervise the schools here reflects itself in the added incentive to teachers to more seriously study this branch of work and the pleasing performances of the children. Mr. Moffatt has taken more than ordinary interest in his work, inculcating appreciation of music in boys and girls and the general results are indeed satisfactory.

Recollections of October, 1899

The news placards in London and throughout England told of impending war between President Oom Paul Kruger of the Transvaal government in South Africa and Great Britain, of the strengthening of British garrisons on the borders of Natal and in Cape Colony, of the demand by the president that these troops be withdrawn from his borders, and finally his ultimatum to the British government that unless this was done war would be declared.

England was ill-prepared for a war 6,000 miles from home, but in face of such defiance, secretly approved by the former Kaiser Wilhelm, it could not sacrifice its prestige in South Africa and throughout the world by submitting to Kruger's threat that he would drive the British into the sea.

Trouble had been brewing for over ten years, since the memorable Jameson Raid, which was a protest made by armed force by a handful of Britishers against the injustices inflicted on the "Uitlanders," as they were called, from whom the franchise was withheld, despite the provisions for citizenship which existed. Too much British capital was also at stake in the diamond and gold mines of South Africa to ignore the determination of the Boer Republic to oust the British from South Africa, with the result that the war, which at first was thought would be of short duration continued from October, 1899, till May, 1902, when peace terms were made at Vereeniging on the borders of the Transvaal and Orange Free State, in which Lord Kitchener, commander-in-chief, dictated the terms as laid down by Great Britain.

Many Canadians are still living who took part in that campaign, which after the first battles of importance, such as the sieges of Ladysmith and Mafeking, the capture of General Cronje and 4,000 burghers at Paardeberg, in which Canadian troops played a memorable part, and the great advance to Pretoria under Lord Roberts, developed into guerrilla warfare in which the sturdy Boers proved their mettle as defenders of their country.

RECIPROCITY

A salesman called on the editor of the Wiarion Echo, the other day and offered him cash payment for a page of advertising for firms in a nearby city. The offer was turned down because the Wiarion Echo believed it would result in Wiarion money being spent out of town, while it should be spent at home.
He wonders, however, whether he wasn't foolish in not accepting the business, and asks: "How many town merchants would sacrifice the price of a full page advertisement in our interests?" It is a reasonable query. Weekly newspapers often prove themselves among the best friends which home town merchants possess, but they must sometimes think of man's ingratitude as they learn of merchants giving business to out-of-town printing salesmen.—Hanover Post.

This year the weekly papers throughout the Dominion received no business whatever from the government by way of voters' lists, proclamations, ballots, etc. Most of the work was done at Ottawa, where the government spent a quarter of a million dollars in new machinery for the purpose. Work formerly done by the printers employed in small and large towns all over the Dominion was on this occasion concentrated among the printers of Ottawa.—Penticon

Musical Festival Notes

The adjudicator's remarks at a musical festival are of many as interesting as the performances of the competitors. A young gentleman with a silvery tenor voice was criticized for not making his love making tendences more demonstrative in a song entitled "The Young Lover," and told he should practice more or get his young lady to teach him. As he had a distinct tremolo voice, one didn't know if he was trembling with emotion or nervousness, but the adjudicator only took into consideration his singing ability. By next year he should show a distinct improvement as a budding Caruso if he again faces the adjudicator.

All premises used as grasshopper poison mixing stations were condemned by the Manitoba government as unsuitable for living quarters for any person. The action was taken as a result of 25 roadworkers, housed in a mixing station, being stricken with poison recently.

Purchasers of new cars in November and December this year will not be required to buy a part-time 1935 Ontario automobile license, it has been announced. Instead, these purchasers can buy their 1936 plates after Nov. 1 and these licenses will carry them to the end of December, 1936.

Canton Takes Action

Would Bar Small Merchants From Importing Old Newspapers

The practice of small merchants in China, who wrap purchases in old American newspapers, may be halted by a measure put before the Canton Government to curtail such importations, the Department of Commerce reports.

The extent of the practice is shown by the fact that the city of Canton alone imported about $1,000,000 worth of such old newspapers in 1934.

Chinese paper manufacturers succeeded last year in stopping the merchants from so wrapping fresh foodstuffs, the Commerce Department said, and it is now planned to prohibit the importation of old newspapers.

South Africa's 1935 maize crop is estimated at 17,941,000 bags.

Was Famous Cartoonist

Sidney Smith Creator Of The Gumps, Killed In Automobile Accident
An automobile crash in Illinois ended the career of Sidney Smith, cartoonist-philosopher, who made "Oh, Min" and "Gump's" household phrases in many lands.

The veteran creator of "The Gumps", "Old Doc Yak" and "Ching Chow" who dropped pearls of wisdom and humor from his lips each day, was dead when they removed him from the wreckage of his car.

Smith, who was 58, ranked with Claire Briggs as probably the greatest portrayer of family life through the medium of cartoons. The daily doings of Andy and Min Gump, Little Chester and the fabulously wealthy Uncle Bim, their joys and their sorrows, have been a comic page feature for years.

More recently Smith introduced "Ching Chow," a little Oriental of few words and much wisdom. This box cartoon was made to tell readers such things as "The slave has but one master—the ambitious as many as there are people likely to be useful to him."

Smith's noted career started when he was but 18, making him one of the real oldsters of the game. The ranks of the veterans are thin, "Gus" Herriman, artful drawer of "Krazy Kat" and Bud Fisher, creator of "Mutt and Jeff," remaining as probably the two best known among the old hands.

Among the intimate little twists Smith got out of his work was the license number 348. Long ago it appeared on Yak's auto. Then he transferred it to Andy Gump's half-pint gas buggy. Only Smith's intimates knew that 348 was the cartoonist's own motor permit number, and was issued to him for many years.

Smith's attorney, E. Williams, disclosed that a few hours before the fatal journey the cartoonist had renewed his contract with the Chicago-Tribune-New York News syndicate. He said it stipulated the payment of $750,000 for a five-year period.

A native of Bloomington, Ill., Smith had been a staff member of the Chicago Tribune since 1911. He began his career as a cartoonist on the Bloomington Eye in 1895.

Several Groups Of Claims Staked In Ontario Near Manitoba Boundary
A new gold discovery in the north-west corner of Ontario, where several groups of claims have already been staked was announced by Hon. Paul Leduc, Ontario minister of mines, who said the new area "appears a favorable one for prospecting."

David Foster, prospector for a Winnipeg group, was credited with the discovery. The area, it is said, is in three places over one 300-foot stretch, is 40 miles east of the Manitoba boundary and more than 200 miles north of the Red Lake discoveries. It surrounds the Sachigo river.

The potatoes were grown from seeds, and tomato, cabbage, pepper and egg plant seeds are successfully taking root.

Chimney Sweeps In Yugoslavian Town Earn Good Money
Last year the 27 municipal chimney sweeps of Zagreb, Yugoslavia, earned between them, apart from tips $130,000—almost $50,000. This is far more than many bank managers earn there. Sweeps in Zagreb are paid a monthly sum whether the chimneys need sweeping or not. They are then responsible for the cleanliness of all chimneys and for any fires due to chimneys not being properly cleaned.

Place Men On Farms

Alberta Government Planning To Care For Single Unemployed Men

A plan under which from 3,000 to 4,000 single unemployed men would be placed on farms this winter is being considered by the Alberta government, Premier Albertabert stated. The plan is an extension of the farm scheme operated during the past two years. While the unemployed men would be given $5 a month as a salary, a similar sum would also be paid to the farmer.

Another suggestion is that such unemployed placed on farms under this scheme would not be required to work more than five hours a day. Paying the way for the $5 minimum cash payment monthly to rural families in need of relief, an order-in-council has been passed by the provincial government. As a result, municipal secretaries are being circulated in order that the plan can be brought to the attention of rural authorities and the extent of the response gauged by the government.

The plan was outlined recently by Premier Albertabert who said it was not to be regarded as providing a real "basic dividend." While the minimum amount was set at $5 which would be provided by the government, the municipality would be expected to match it with $2.50. As compensation for its contribution, the municipality could require the relief recipient to give some return in work. If the size of the family justified more than the minimum, the municipality would be provided, while as the sum increased, the municipality's share would be proportionately increased.

Girl Stated Qualifications But Neglected To Sign Her Name
A girl applied yesterday to Walter Lister, city editor of the Post, for a reporter's job—but was disappointed.

"Are you prejudiced against women in the newspaper game?" she asked. . . Mr. Lister replied: "It isn't that I'm prejudiced—but I find that most of them are careless and sloppy in their work. . . . Send me a letter, though, listing your qualifications, and I'll place it on file."

The letter arrived—a two-page note, carefully typewritten, and listing qualifications tending to offset any suggestions of carelessness.

The lady, however, forgot to sign her name—Leonard Lyons, in New York Post.

JUDAH TAKEN CAPTIVE

'Golden text: Righteousness exalteth a nation; But sin is a reproach to any people. Proverbs 14:34.
Lesson: II. Kings 24:1 to 25:21; Jeremiah 39:1-18.
Devotional reading: Psalm 107:10-16.

Explanations and Comments

The Siege of Jerusalem, verses 1-3. In the ninth month of Zedekiah's reign, 586 B.C., in the tenth month according to the Babylonian calendar (which numbered its months from the spring season, the tenth month corresponding to our January), and on the tenth day of the month, Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, came with his army and besieged Jerusalem. "The nation never forgot the month of making good their escape from the armies of Chaldean finally invaded the city. It was felt as the day of the deepest gloom by the Israelite exiles, Ezekiel 24. It has been commemorated as a fast, the Fast of Tebeth, ever since in the Jewish Church" (Dean Stanley).

The Flight from Jerusalem and the Fate of Zedekiah, verses 4-7. When the city was finally made in the city walls, the Israelites fled by night by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden. This gate was on the south of the city. The Israelites must have known that there was little chance of making good their escape from the Chaldeans surrounded the city.

The Fate of Jerusalem, verses 8-10, 13-17. On the seventh day of the fifth month, Nebuzadnezzar, the captain of Nebuchadnezzar's guard (literally "chief of the executioners," the king's bodyguard to whom such duties belonged), came to complete the destruction of Jerusalem. The work of devastation was thoroughly done. The gold and silver vessels, and the pillars and vessels of brass of the temple were saved to be carried to Babylon, and then the sacred temple, on which such a passion of love had been lavished, was razed to the ground. The king's palace and every great house in the city were burned, and the city walls were broken down.

The Fate of the People, verses 11, 22. The commander of the body guard carried off as prisoners the people left in the city and those who had already surrendered to the king of Babylon, as well as the rest of the of the broken-down nation (including the king). The poorest of the people were left to cultivate the land, as vine-dressers and husbandmen.

Canadian Premiers

Fifteen Ministers Since The Time Of Confederation

After all these weeks of discussion of Canadian affairs, how many could name the premiers since Confederation, 1867? Sir John A. Macdonald, 1867-1873; Sir John A. Macdonald, 1873-1878; Sir John A. Macdonald, 1878-1883; Sir John Abbott, 1883-1887; Sir John Thompson, 1887-1891; Sir John Thompson, 1891-1894; Sir Charles Tupper, 1894-1896; Sir Wilfrid Laurier, 1896-1900; Sir Robert Borden, 1900-1906; Sir Arthur Meighen, 1906-1911; Rt. Hon. W. L. M. King, 1911-1913; Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, 1913-1917; Rt. Hon. W. L. M. King, 1917-1919; Rt. Hon. W. L. M. King, 1919-1921; Rt. Hon. W. L. M. King, 1921-1926; Hon. R. B. Bennett, 1926-1930; and now add Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, 1930-1935. There have been fifteen premiers since Confederation, two being headed by Sir Robert Borden during his tenure of office, one being Conservative and the other the Unionist War Cabinet.

Nearly Two Million Dollars Set Aside For Air Site

A 900-acre property four miles from Sydney, N.S., has been selected as the site for a $1,750,000 North American terminus of the projected ocean air service. C. H. Glendinning, chairman of the Irish Transatlantic Air Corporation, announced recently. Owned by the Nova Scotia government, the property has been developed to the corporation and will be developed along the lines proposed for the eastern terminus at Londonderry, northern Ireland.

Planning the "quickest practical route" for air transportation between the Old Country and North America, the chairman said the terminus at Sydney would be leased to other corporations connecting the ocean service with Canadian and United States lines. The planes, he said, would provide accommodation for 45 persons beside facilities for handling mail.

A Bean For A Meal

Natural Growth Is Five Or Six Feet In Length

One of the first Australian beans on the North American continent, grew at the rate of one inch a day in a back yard garden plot in Roseville, Mich.

The bean, produced by Louis Jeffries, a disabled war veteran, has attained the length of 31 and one-half inches and is 10 and one-half inches in circumference.

Jeffries' vegetable prodigy is one of two on a vine produced from seed sent to the veteran by a friend in New Zealand.

"The soil is different here and the climate is too cold," Jeffries remarked to questioners. "I expect each of my beans will be big enough to provide a square meal before they stop growing."

Jeffries, an electrician before the world war, has been able to work only as a watchman since he was disabled in service. He has devoted his spare time to developing unusual vegetables, fruits and hybrids in his small garden.

The Australian bean, pale green in color, grows to a length of five or six feet in its native soil. It is highly esteemed as food.

SYNOPSIS

Nancy Nelson is a sub-leb, a gay, irresponsible girl of nineteen, with no care beyond the choice of her costume for her coming-out party. Suddenly, in the market crash, her indulgent father loses all he has, and his family is faced with the necessity of a simpler method of living. At this juncture a letter is received from an eccentric relative in Colorado, who offers the family a home on what seems to be impossible conditions.

After much consideration Cousin Columbine's offer is accepted, and Nancy and Jack arrive at Pine Ridge. Nancy, at first, is determined to climb to the top of a hill so as to obtain a view of the surrounding landscape and miss the path Aurora Tubbs had told her to follow. A truck comes along the road, driven by Matthew Adams, and takes him which way to go. They ascend the hill, look around, and then go on to Cousin Columbine's. There Mark Adam tells Nancy that his brother Luke has broken his leg, and that Jack Nelson has been hired to help out while Luke's leg gets better. With Jack away, Nancy finds that she is lonesome, and having no books to read, the idea of starting a public library at Pine Ridge seems a good one, and Nancy writes some to get her parents to send all the books they could spare and all they could induce others to let them have.

Nancy's parents and friends give their liberal support to her request for books, and a sizeable book arrived in due course. Father Adam painted a sign for the library, and the Adams boys worked on the shelves for the books and decorated to make the room look presentable.

Jack Nelson, Matthew Adams, and Nancy go to the prairie home of Matthew's uncle for the ride, and after Nancy and Jack leave for home, they are caught in a blizzard. Blinded by the swirling snow they call with a bus full of school children, which was stalled across the road with its back wheels resting in a snow-drifted gully. Their car being wrecked, Jack and Nancy stay with the children and do all they can to help. The next morning Jack sets out for help in the blizzard. He succeeds in finding help, and the party of children and Nancy are rescued. As a result of the exposure Nancy's feet are badly frozen and Jack is seriously ill with pneumonia, but both of them recover.

Now Go On With The Story

He blushed a little; and Nancy said: "I'll admit that Jack is it took pluck to leave even the cold shelter of that bus, you know. But to make a fuss over me is—just ridiculous! I'd have been a coward to watch those kiddies freeze to death and not do everything I could. You know I would!"

There was silence a moment before Matt asked: "Do you remember the last time we sat under the old pine, Nancy? You told me then that your courage had been tested and that you wondered how you'd show up in a pinch. Well, you know now, don't you?"

Science has discovered why Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is so much more beneficial than plain Cod Liver Oil. All plain oils are hard to digest; they must be emulsified in the stomach. We emulsify the oil in our Laboratories hence it is ready for almost immediate digestion and assimilation.

Though the family at Edgemere was disappointed, this plan was obviously best for Jack, and they did not protest. The boy's strength returned more rapidly than Cousin Columbine anticipated, and by the middle of May they ventured to make some of the long-promised excursions to places not far distant enough to tire him.

"I'm sick to death of putting up picnic lunches," grumbled Aurora one bright May morning. "And why any body in their senses should go to Cripple Creek when they could stay away, is something entirely beyond me. Not a tree in the whole town, Nancy Nelson! Not a growin' thing less'n you count sage and those awful prospect holes all over the hills lookin' for all the world like open graves in a cemetery. And here's Miss Columbine as excited over the trip as if she'd never seen a minin' town, let alone lived in one of the peaky places."

Eye Adam laughed when Nancy repeated this caustic comment.

"But who cares, my dear? We'll make up the neglected work you leave us; and it warms my heart to see how Miss Columbine enjoys these trips. It gives her a new lease of life to visit the old scenes and talk to those times with young folks who are really interested."

Jack thrilled over that trip to Cripple Creek; but the day they visited the scene of Marsh Pemperton's colossal hoax, stood out, a high light, in Nancy's memory. This was during the first week in June, a day with soft, white clouds drifting across the sky, and air like mid-summer. Their road led past ranches where men were ploughing immense acres; then on through mile after mile of yellow plains. Seated between Mark and Matthew in the old truck (the companion of the new car being given over to the older Adams, Cousin Columbine, and Jack), Nancy caught her breath at occasional glimpses of distant mountains, some snow-rimmed.

"I'm all but speechless over this scenery," she confessed, while the boys smiled in amusement at her enthusiasm. "Yes, it's a lovely sight, with a backward glance toward Luke and Mary Taylor, seated on cushions in the rear, 'as jabbering away as if there were no 'wonders to behold.' What else is there?"

"Love's young dream, lady," Mark replied as he slowed down for a turn. "Luke's always been more or less what Aurora calls 'sweet' on Mary; and that girl has certainly blossomed out just lately, the result, I believe, of association with Miss Aladdin."

Nancy laughed; and Matt said solemnly: "With all due respect to you, Matt, I've a notion that our kid brother is responsible for that change in Mary Taylor." He turned to view the unmarrying couple seated before, and added: "At any rate, they're both oblivious to the scenery."

Mark chuckled, and rounding a curve, announced: "Here's your pioneer cemetery, Nancy—the one Miss Columbine told about. Shall we view it from here, or are you determined to climb that slope in this hot sun?"

"What did we come for?" the girl responded; and as Matt sprang down she took his standing hand and followed. "I wouldn't miss seeing this place for anything. Aren't you all coming?"

Mark shook his head. "I'm starving. I'm going to forage in the lunch box. What do you say, folks?"

This last was addressed to Luke and Mary, to whom the lunch box seemed more alluring than the cemetery. So it was with Matt alone that Nancy explored that tragic spot, looking down soberly on graves protected only by sagging fences; the marking on their wooden headboards almost obliterated—some wholly lost amid an overgrowth of weeds and bushes.

Perhaps it was the history of the place that silenced the young people. Neither spoke for a time; and then Nancy stopped, laying a spray of blossoming pink Kamiklik on one small unmarked resting place.

"Somebody's baby," she explained, flushing a bit for fear that Matt would think her sentimental; but to her relief he added:

"And all because of one man's greed. I'd hate to be responsible for such a place, Nancy; yet when my time comes I'd rather lie in this wild tangle than in a city cemetery with a neatly mowed lawn above me, and a 'perpetual care' sign over my head."

Don't Guess But Know

Whether the "Pain" Remedy You Use is SAFE?

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

THE person to ask whether the preparation you or your family are taking for the relief of headaches is SAFE to use regularly is your family doctor. Ask him particularly about "ASPIRIN."

He will tell you that before the discovery of "Aspirin" most "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as bad for the stomach and, often, for the heart. Which is food for thought if you seek quick, safe relief.

Scientists rate "Aspirin" among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and the pains of rheumatism, neuritis and neuralgia. And the experience of millions of users has proved it safe for the average person to use regularly. In your own interest remember this.

"Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trademark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

Demand and Get "ASPIRIN"

His voice was thoughtful, and with sudden inspiration the girl quoted:

"Under the wide and starry sky Dig my grave and let me lie."

"Is that how you feel, Matt?"

His eyes lighted at her intuition; but before he could reply, Mark's laughing voice broke in upon them.

"Both poetic and appropriate young lady; but you two seem to have forgotten that we're on our way. The old folks have caught up with us, and Jack's already expiring this melancholy scene. There's still ten or twelve miles ahead if we're to eat our lunch on the shore of the Platte as Miss Columbine has set her heart on doing. Have some cake?"

Matthew, who longed to strangle his brother for this intrusion, nevertheless accepted his portion with good grace; while Nancy exclaimed: "You've saved my life, Mark! I'm almost passing out. Isn't the Platte the river we read about in history—I mean the one the pioneers were always fording?"

Rise in Diamond Prices

Increase To Release More Stones For The World Market

London's diamond kings, controllers of the world's supply, are to release for sale more uncut stones within a short time than were sold throughout the whole of the last year.

So convinced are they in England that the world has recovered enough to indulge once more in luxuries that prices are being advanced 7½ per cent., and there is confidence that all stones offered will be sold.

Altogether stones worth more than $15,000,000 will be offered to selected buyers from all parts of the world within two months. The Diamond Corporation, which has accumulated $45,000,000 worth of stones during the years of depression, has been allocated a quota in the sales. Invitations already have been dispatched to representative brokers in Amsterdam, Antwerp, Vienna, Paris, Bombay and New York.

The central selling agency of the diamond groups is in a four-story building off Holborn. Every foreign buyer is shown into a walnut-paneled room. He is accompanied by a representative of the sellers. On a square of plain white paper on a ledge under the window is poured a little heap of graded, uncut stones. It represents a fortune.

The buyer examines the stones, makes his choice, pays his price, and departs with a tiny package as casually as if he had purchased a bag of nuts.

Biggest buyers are expected to be New York and India. U.S. jewellers' stocks are believed to be lowest since the depression. India's demand is based on "dehoarding" of gold by the prices.

Little Helps For This Week

Love is of God, and every one that loveth is born of God and knoweth God. I John 4:7.

Forbearing one another and forgiving one another. Colossians 3:13.

Oh, might we all our lineage prove,
 Give and forgive, do good and love;
 By soft endearments, in kind strife,
 Lightening the daily load of life.

We may if we choose make the worst of one another. Every one has his faults, every one has his weak points, and we may fix our attention constantly on these. But we may also make the best of one another. We may forgive even as we hope to be forgiven. We may put ourselves in the place of others and ask ourselves what we would wish to be done to us were we in their place. By loving others we loveable them around us, love will flow back from them to us and life will be a pleasure indeed instead of a pain. Earth will become like heaven and we shall not be unworthy followers of Him whose name is Love.

Birds Devour Hoppers

Thousands Of Gulls Land And Clear The Fields

In certain parts of southern Alberta where grasshoppers were no numerous this summer vast flocks of gulls were literally covering the fields, rounding up the hoppers, and when they had concluded their attack about 75 per cent. of the insects had been devoured.

Reeve A. Schug of Rosemead said that on a field of 60 acres a flock of gulls gilded in from the south and practically covered the ground. He estimated about 50,000 on the entire field. A wave of grasshoppers could be seen travelling ahead of the birds trying to evade them as the gulls walked onward, but by the time the gulls had dined to their satisfaction some three-quarters of the hoppers were no more.

Used Living Exhibit

The only thing Johnny Crossland, in grade 7, could talk about was horses when members of his class in a Winnipeg school had to make speeches. And he couldn't give a proper address without a live exhibit. So into the classroom walked Johnny leading a white pony, with a saddle "n" everything. He made a good speech, too.

Lions For Rome Zoo

The Rome zoological garden will be among the first to reap the fruits of Italy's war of conquest in Ethiopia. Two small lion cubs were found by Italian soldiers who captured Adduwa and have been shipped to Rome.

Rhodesia will establish a mining school, with practical work in a gold mine.

Care Of Children

Lectures To Be Given In New York To Educate Mothers

An institute to debunk the ancient myth that all mothers are good mothers was founded in New York with plans to promote its idea by lectures and clinics. The institute's program was outlined by Bernard Deutsch, president of the New York board of aldermen.

"Every walk in life, to be trod successfully, needs long and weary training," he said. "Why except mothering?" Let us debunk the ancient myth once and for all. There are good mothers, bad mothers, indifferent mothers, diligent mothers, intelligent mothers, and ignorant mothers."

By instructing women in proper care of children, the institute is attempting to improve the motherhood "ability" of its pupils.
